ISAAC FISHER HERE JULY 4

PRIZE WINNER
WILL APPEAR
AT THE Y. M. C. A.

Noted University Editor Of Fisk U. Won First Prize Offered By St. Louis Post-Dispatch On The Subject Of "Why People Should Come To Missouri."

Extraordinary program will be the attraction at the Y. M. C. A. on Sunday, July 4, when Prof. Isaac Fisher, educator, orator and scholar will speak. He is the most honored man of his race about his time, because of his peculiar fitness and adaptability for research work.

A Prize Winner—Prof. Fisher has earned many contests of varied nature and subjects, and always in a most favorable manner.

Fisher's motto when he writes is, "Get the truth," and nothing excites him from getting to the very bottom of anything in which he is interested. "When I consider a subject," he says, "I am not white, nor black, neither Christian, Republican, nor Progress; but, rather, a free trader, not a protectionist; neither Methodist nor Baptist; and I am free, absolutely, from any personal prejudices, and seek for the truth."

The most recent of these prize wins awarded to Everbody's Magazine for September, when the first prize of $100 was awarded to him for the best essay on the subject "What We Learned About Race." This article is selected by one of the thousand letters that have been received in answer to the contest. Certain other letters have represented more extensive work, but the analysis, and have justified the decision to particular prize. Others have been brilliant in history and science, but lacking in local perspective and care in the statement of facts. Mr. Fisher's essay on the subject of race with admirable comprehension and a telling directness of style and often some remarkable suggestions.

If any man in America deserves the title, "Doctor of Philosophy," it is this young Negro, graduate of a school of no higher grade than normal; because he has done more to enlighten the world in the scientific questions of world-wide importance than any other writer of his age. Without even mentioning a large number of other contests in which the prize were less than two dollars, this man, a Negro, a Fisk University graduate, has done more than twenty or more times in national contests with the best brains in America, of all races. He has won on the following subjects:

What We Learned About the Race Question. $100.00
German and American Methods of Reconciliation. $50.00
Unaided Mr. Fisher had to master in a few months sufficient material to win the prize of $50.00. He was able to write this subject. 400.00
The Best Reasons Why People Should Go to Missouri. 100.00
A Plan to Give the South a System of Highway Sailed to the Needs. 100.00
Scales and the Hourly. 50.00
The Use of Atomic Energy. 50.00
The Relation Between Manual Training in the Public Schools and Industrial Education and Efficiency. 100.00
The Most Practical Method of Bringing a Reduction of the Tariff. 100.00
Honorable Mention (Upon the Motion of the Chief Examiner of the United States Tariff Board, this essay was met to this body for its use.)

These are only the "big" essays he has written. At the recent meeting of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World, in Toronto, Canada, Mr. Fisher's paper on "Advertising and Selling" was selected by the Committee on Awards as one of the "Top four" best on the subject. Thereby giving him a unique place in the first international contest he has entered.

TITANIC POEM

His broad sympathy was further shown when the "Titanic" disaster was added to the grim tragedy of the sea. Prompted by the story of the sinking of the ship, Mr. Fisher wrote a five stanza poem, "The Last Full Measure of Devotion," which was published in the Reform Advocate, a paper in his home town, Chicago. "It is middle and last stanza follow:

"With the changing winds of destiny we have wandered side by side. Dearer life our interests have made true been."

Now, I feel, I will not fall this, let whatever will befall, I am ready! Let eternity begin."

"I will keep them. He will raise them; they shall stand before his throne."

There shall see him face to face and we shall be his.

There together, we shall stand, in his kingdom He shall own.

For the Lord our God is Father of the me."

PROF. ISAAC FISHER

ONLY NEGRO ON PROGRAM

The writer-educator-orator has been honored again and again by his own illustrations. When the Committee of One Hundred, composed of the most prominent citizens of Chicago, arranged to celebrate, in 1910, the one hundredth anniversary of the birth of Theodore Parker, they decided to invite Isaac Fisher, to speak for the American Negro, and he was the only colored man on a program which included men and women from all the United States, Europe and India, and which was headed by such men as Prof. George Yonson, Edgar D. Mead, Dr. Frank W. Cunningham, Jane Addams, Mrs. Fane Young, Jenkin Lloyd Jones, Judge Julius Mack, Emil Hirsch and others of no less national and international fame.

So well was Prof. Fisher's address received—and his subject was, "Has the Negro Neglected Faith?"—that at the last moment at the request of prominent hearers, he was placed on the list of banquet speakers with men and women who were regarded as the "cream of the cream," to use vernacular, who had been invited to address the occasion of the evening; he stirred the banquet guests to burning enthusiasm.

AFRICA

Africa, "the land of darkness," is slowly, but surely, becoming the land of light. Africa, ordered by nature with richer soils than any other continent of this world, has been the center of the nations of earth for one reason and another. Civilization has reached its height in Africa, and in some sections of it, one may be led to believe that civilization has reached its lowest ebb.

Nevertheless, Africa is grand and glorious in promise, and on her a person John D. Frederick Starr of the University of Chicago has recently said:

There are a great many people of our group who share at the thought that the future belongs to the Continent of Africa. Others acquire "What have I to do with Africa?"

There should be a recognition of the fact that Africa is a continent of the future. That kind of talk is a true sign of ignorance—of ignorance of history, conditions and human nature.

LABOR

Keep to observe the "landmarks on the wall," the American Federation of Labor has turned a significant corner. It has been the most significant exhibition of its kind in years. Labor has shown, practically speaking, to the colored people of the country that it is not a foreign power, and without support from this side, no progress will be made. Of course it will be made for the individual, but the "back bone" to put the drive of the convention into effect, to come out in scores of delegates publicly told of their loyalty, signifying their membership in the labor movement, and their sentiment to stand by the play to the colored people as well as to the white.

The various national conferences, conventions and lodges and the like that have been held in the past, have accomplished more than any previous ones have done. While all these things are more or less inspirational, the time has come when they must be made more of a practical nature. A new day has dawned, and that day must be marked by a program that can be carried out by the colored people of the nation. The need of a national conference, that has made in our behalf to the thousands of people, is a need that must be met. It is a need that must be met, and it must be met in a way that will be of benefit to the colored people of the nation. It must be met in a way that will be of benefit to the colored people of the nation. It must be met in a way that will be of benefit to the colored people of the nation.
